

Jim Tulenko
2003-2004 ANS Vicepresident/President Elect
Monday May 10, 2004
Ramada Inn Lynchburg - Lynchburg, VA

"The Outlook for Nuclear Power Renaissance - One Man's Opinion"

Jim Tulenko is the President-Elect of the American Nuclear Society. He is a Professor and Director of the Laboratory for Development of Advanced Nuclear Fuels and Materials at the University of Florida. He served as Chairman of the Nuclear and Radiological Engineering Department at the University of Florida from 1986 to 2001. Previously, he was the Manager of Nuclear Fuel Engineering at Babcock and Wilcox. He is a Fellow of the American Nuclear Society and the recipient of the Holly Compton Award for Outstanding Contributions to Nuclear Science and Technology, the Mishima Award for Outstanding Contributions to Nuclear Material Research and the Glenn Murphy Award as the Outstanding Nuclear Engineering Educator. Prof Tulenko is also an Adjunct Professor of Mechanical Engineering at the University of South Carolina and an Associate at Los Alamos in the Advanced Fuel Cycle Initiative. He is a Board Member of the National Nuclear Accrediting Board, Chairman of the Review Board for the Chemical Engineering Division of Argonne National Laboratory, and a member of the Review Committee of the D Division of Los Alamos National Laboratory.